

PAGE 5 — PARTNERS

Contributions in Kind and Financial Support

Bell Island Battle of the Atlantic Virtual Memorial Expedition 2027

The Bell Island Battle of the Atlantic Virtual Memorial Expedition is a collaborative project bringing together academic institutions, heritage organizations, marine-technology specialists, and private supporters. The expedition integrates underwater archaeology, marine science, and digital mapping to document and interpret one of Canada's most significant Second World War naval sites.

Institutional Leadership

- Royal Canadian Geographical Society — Major Grant Recipient and Expedition Partner
-

Expedition Partners

- Memorial University of Newfoundland — Marine Institute (MUN MI)
- Shipwreck Preservation Society of Newfoundland and Labrador (SPSNL)
- VOYIS
- Royal Canadian Geographical Society (RCGS)
- HMCS Canada Expedition Dive Team

These partners provide the academic, operational, and technical capabilities required to carry out the expedition and produce the Digital Terrain Model and Virtual Memorial.

Contributions in Kind

- Memorial University of Newfoundland — Marine Institute
- VOYIS
- HMCS Canada Expedition Dive Team

In-kind contributions include vessel support, marine survey capability, imaging systems, and field operations, significantly extending the scope and effectiveness of the expedition.

Cultural, Education, and Media Partners

- Shipwreck Preservation Society of Newfoundland and Labrador
 - Royal Canadian Geographical Society
 - Canadian Geographic
 - Maritime Museum of the Atlantic, Halifax, Nova Scotia
-

Donors and Supporters

The expedition has received initial support from private and institutional donors and may also receive contributions from individuals, government agencies, corporations, and foundations. Contributions at all levels support field operations, imaging technology, expedition logistics, student participation, and the development of the Virtual Memorial. Donors may be acknowledged, with permission, through expedition materials, publications, and presentations.

Support and Donations

The expedition is supported through a dedicated fund administered by the Royal Canadian Geographical Society.

Contributions support field operations, imaging technology, logistics, and the development of the Virtual Memorial.

Donate here:

<https://secure.qgiv.com/for/bellislandexpedition/>

Governance

The expedition operates under the governance framework of the Royal Canadian Geographical Society and is recognized as an official expedition within its national program.